UNIVERSITY OF LUCKNOW (DEMO)

Centre for Distance and Online Education (CDOE)

MBA-101 Managerial Economics (demo code)

Online MBA, Semester 1 (2026-27), Centre for Distance and Online Education (CDOE)

Credits: 4. Maximum marks: 100 (continuous assessment 30: unit quizzes and assignments; proctored final test 70).

Approved by: Board of Studies, Management (demo), July 2026.

Demo document: fictional data prepared for a Walnut Learning Suite demonstration. Not an official syllabus or publication of the University of Lucknow.

Course objectives

To help working professionals apply economic reasoning to everyday business decisions: pricing, forecasting demand, controlling cost and reading the macroeconomic environment.

Units, topics and teaching hours

Unit 1: Nature and scope of managerial economics (8 hours)

Meaning, nature and scope of managerial economics; role of the managerial economist in business decisions; opportunity cost, incremental, marginal and discounting principles; objectives of the firm

Unit 2: Demand analysis and forecasting (12 hours)

Law of demand and its determinants; price, income and cross elasticity of demand; using elasticity in pricing; demand forecasting methods: survey, trend projection, regression and expert opinion

Unit 3: Production and cost analysis (12 hours)

Production function; law of variable proportions; returns to scale; short-run and long-run cost curves; economies of scale; break-even analysis and the margin of safety

Unit 4: Market structures and pricing (10 hours)

Perfect competition, monopoly, monopolistic competition and oligopoly; price and output decisions; pricing strategies: cost-plus, penetration, skimming and price discrimination

Unit 5: Macroeconomic environment of business (10 hours)

National income concepts and their measurement; inflation; monetary policy of the Reserve Bank of India; fiscal policy and the Union Budget; business cycles

Total: 52 teaching hours.

Course outcomes (COs)

On completing MBA-101, the learner will be able to:

- MBA101.1.1 (understand): Explain the scope of managerial economics and its role in business decisions.
- MBA101.1.2 (apply): Apply opportunity cost, incremental and marginal reasoning to a business decision.
- MBA101.2.1 (understand): Explain the law of demand and its determinants.
- MBA101.2.2 (apply): Calculate price, income and cross elasticity of demand and interpret them for pricing.

- MBA101.2.3 (evaluate): Choose a suitable demand forecasting method for a business case.
- MBA101.3.1 (understand): Explain the law of variable proportions and returns to scale.
- MBA101.3.2 (analyze): Analyse short-run and long-run cost curves of a firm.
- MBA101.3.3 (apply): Compute break-even output and the margin of safety.
- MBA101.4.1 (analyze): Compare price and output decisions under perfect competition, monopoly and oligopoly.
- MBA101.4.2 (evaluate): Recommend a pricing strategy for a product using market structure analysis.
- MBA101.5.1 (understand): Explain national income concepts and how they are measured.
- MBA101.5.2 (analyze): Analyse the effect of inflation, monetary policy and fiscal policy on business.
- MBA101.5.3 (evaluate): Evaluate the impact of a Union Budget measure on an industry.

Reading list

- R. N. Khare and S. Dixit. Managerial Economics for Indian Business. 4th edition, 2025. Gomti Academic Press (demo). Prescribed textbook; units 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.
- CDOE course team. Self-learning material: MBA-101, Blocks 1 to 5. 2026-27 edition. Centre for Distance and Online Education (demo). Self-learning material; units 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.
- M. Rizvi. Economics for Managers: Cases from Uttar Pradesh. 2nd edition, 2024. Awadh Publishing House (demo). Reference book; units 2, 3, 4.
- P. Saxena and A. Kidwai. The Business Environment in India: Firms, Markets and Policy. 3rd edition, 2025. Gomti Academic Press (demo). Reference book; units 1, 5.

Assessment

Unit quizzes and two assignments are taken online. The final test is proctored online. Learners who score below 40% on a unit are offered a learning improvement plan and a peer study group.

Code prefix for course outcomes in the Walnut Learning Suite: MBA101.